Audience Q & A with the film’s director MICHAEL POTTER

“Orphans of Apollo” chronicles the dramatic adventure of the boldest business plan the Earth has ever seen. At the center of the film is 'MirCorp' – the very first entrepreneurial company to have a sole focus on the privatization of space with a fantastic vision of transforming the Russian Mir space station into an outpost for what was intended to be the first phase of a trillion dollar business, including mining of asteroids, gravity free laboratories and a space 'hotel'. Join this band of rebels out to change the course of history in space as they board a private jet, fly to Russia, and negotiate one of the most remarkable business deals of the final frontier. Follow this diverse group as they pioneer their way through the new business of space. Listen to the management team as they struggle with issues of branding, finance and technology, and engage in the ultimate slugfest with some of the globe’s most powerful governments and bureaucrats. Tickets may be purchased at <http://orphansofapollo.com/warner-grand>, or at the door – cash sales only. This special documentary screening will benefit Manna Energy Foundation’s, “Geeks Without Frontiers” program.
