

What Symbolizes Latinos Los Angeles to me?

Latinos of Los Angeles have done so many great things for the city and even the world. For example, Latinos have made Los Angeles a better place to be and exciting too. One location that symbolizes the Latino Heritage is Olvera Street, which is a world renowned Mexican marketplace which is located in the heart of Los Angeles. Latinos have also created beautiful murals throughout the city. The various murals symbolize their culture and also represent the continuous inspiration of hard working leaders of the past and present Latino Angelinos of Los Angeles. Such as Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa, Actor Edward James Olmos, Journalist Linda Alvarez and Activist Cesar Chavez.

Another appreciation of Latino heritage is the music. For example, Salsa, Merengue, cumbia, Ranchera and Reggaeton. There is no single style to define Latin music because the mixture gravitates all genres.

Latinos athletes are team players in some famous sports such as Soccer, "The Chivas", Boxing, "Oscar De LA Hoya" and Baseball player "Alex Rodriguez". Latinos are greatly dedicated and committed fans. Another important contribution of Latinos is towards the Los Angeles Unified School District, for example having added a bilingual element into the school curriculum for the Latino students that have a language barrier.

Imagine that Latinos did not exist in Los Angeles then this city wouldn't exist as well. Although even if Los Angeles was here it wouldn't be as creative as today with the mixture of various aspects of unity throughout their culture as a community that defines team work, persistence and political outlooks, such as informing awareness and equality to others. Most likely this city wouldn't be a city it would just be a place that has no meaning in it.
